NOTE.—This currency was the result of long and tedious experiments by Dr Gwynn. In Mr. S. M. Clark's report to the Secretary of the Treasury in 1865, a full account will be found. Mr. C. was at that time chief of the Fractional Currency Bureau. The substance of the report is as follows. Dr. Gwynn earnestly devoted himself to the experiments of dry printing to give me his aid in this work. The first membrane paper provided was unsatiafactory. The peculiar process of making rendered it more liable to split than ordinary bank note paper, and was abandoned, but experiments were immediately made to overcome this difficulty, and ultimately with entire success. He now produces a paper which cannot be dissolved in hot or cold water, which cannot be split, which has an irremovable, non-photographic tint in its spider-leg fibre, and which takes ink more readily, retains it longer, wears better, and is in every respect the best paper ever manufactured for the purpose. Dr. Gwynn about this time was arrested and imprisoned, through some difficulty in regard to dry process of printing, and the whole scheme fell through, only one sheet of each was made as a sample. These few notes were preserved by an official of the Treasury Department, who had them in his possession some eighteen years. They are unquestionably the rarest, by far, of all currency known or ever offered for sale.

453 Washington Medal, one of a few presented to the officers of a United States war vessel lying in the port of St. Petersburg by Emperor Nicholas the first. A bouquet given the Emperor on board the vessel by the officers was so much appreciated, that he had engraved and struck for each officer of the crew, a small medalion (oblong in shape), of Washington, visiting the vessel and presenting each one personally with a medal, as an appreciation to the crew for their hospitality, and his great admiration for Washington. This one was presented to the late Edward Pittman, of Baltimore, by Col. Foster many years ago, who had it set in gold, and for twenty-five years wore it as a scarf pin, size 12x14, iron, very fine, and never before offered for sale, excessively rare.
